(54) Title: COMMUNICATION METHOD AND SYSTEM USING PRIORITY TECHNOLOGY

(57) Abstract: The invention presents an method and system for information recommendation based on the fuzzy logic. The method includes: storing the user files with the fuzzy set, matching the user file with the received information by inference of the fuzzy logic, sieving out the information which conforms to the user's preference and recommending the information to the user after sequencing the information according to the preference thereof. The system includes means for carrying out above method. Said method and system for information recommendation can imitate the human thinking intelligently, hence increase greatly the efficiency and the satisfaction level of the information recommendation, so can be applied to the information recommendation of TV programs, shopping or the Internet and so on.
